CAR THAT INJURED PRESIDENT

RUN AGAINST ORDERS FOR COUN-TRY CLUB MEMBERS.

The Mayor's Orders Were That No Cars Be Run Through the Streets During the stay of the President-The Case Against Madden, the Motorman, Adjourned.

PITTSFIELD, Mass., Sept. 4 .- Euclid Maden, motorman, and James Kelly, conductor on the trolley car which crashed into President Roosevelt's carriage at the foot of Howards Hill in this city yesterday while the President was en route to Lenox. were before the District Court in this city his morning. There was no hearing, the case being continued until Thursday morning, Sept. 18. Lawyer William Turtle of Boston appeared as counsel for the defendants. The bail of Madden and Kelly was continued until the hearing.

The continuance was because of the inty of David J. Pratt, the injured driver, ppear in court. He was resting comfortably this morning, but it is doubtful will be able to testify in two weeks. If not, a further continuance will be granted When the case comes to trial the District Attorney will be represented by counsel. The Government was represented to-day by Chief of Police Nicholson.

In the meantime an inquest will be held. when all evidence relating to the case will be presented. Judge Tucker, the presiding Justice of the District Court of Central Berkshire, is President of the Pittsfield ericic Street Railway Company and will erefore refuse to preside at the inquest. apecial Justice will be secured.

When the case comes to trial it is very likely that no evidence will be introduced by the defendants. The latter probably will be held for the Grand Jury, which meets in January. If indictments are found the cases will then come up before the Superior Court, which meets the latter part of January.

The body of William Craig, the Secret Service officer who was killed in the accident, was shipped to Chicago, the home of his mother, this afternoon for burial. There ere no services here. Gov. Crane was at he undertaking rooms when the body leparted. George and Hugh Craig of Hol-roke, brothers of the dead officer, were also present. The latter accompanied the body

Chicago. Mayor England said to-day that there is no doubt that the accident was due en-irely to the fact that his orders to the Pittsfield Electric Street Railway Comdisobeyed. It was generally derstood, and the company was so inructed, that no cars were to be run trough the streets during the stay of the President in the city. These orders, he said, had not been lived up to. The city officials did all in their power to protect the Presithe street railway company did not fulfil its promise.

Some of the members of the Pittsfield

Country Club are responsible for the car being run over the line. The Country Club house has more or less historic conctions, as Lafayette and several other famous persons have stopped there in the past. The members of the club were most anxious that the President should stop there for a moment and thus add his name o the list of illustrious visitors. It is under-tood that the President had consented o do this and make a little speech there. Some of the members of the club wished to hear the Pittsfield speech and so made arrangements with the Pittsfield Street Railway Company to run this car to the Country Club as soon as the President finished speaking.

PRESIDENT CONGRATULATED.

Messages From Emperor William, President Loubet and the Shah of Persia.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 4 .- A telegram was received at the State Department to-day from Emperor William, congratulating the President upon his fortunate escape from death in the coaching accident yesterday at Pittsfield, Mass. The Emperor's message is the only official congratulatory message that has so far been received at other countries. The despatch, a copy of which has been forwarded to President Roosevelt, is as follows:

The President, Washington:
With all Americans I praise the Providence that saved your life from the terrible accident.
WILLIAM, I. R. President Roosevelt sent the following

MR. CORTELYOU AT OYSTER BAY.

He Left Hempstead Yesterday Afternoon to Continue With the President.

HEMPSTEAD, N. Y., Sept. 4.—George B. Cortelyou, Secretary to the President, spent last night and a part of to-day at Hempstead Institute, of which his fatherin-law. Prof. Ephraim Hinds, is owner. Mr. Cortelyou said to-day: "A peculiar incident in my experience in the accident was that every hook on my laced shoes was flattened, so I had to pry them up before I could unlace the shoes. How this occurred is a mystery to me, as I have no bruises on my feet or ankles to account for it." o account for it."

Mr. Cortelyou left Hempstead at 2 o'clock this afternoon for Oyster Bay. Mrs. Cortelyou accompanied him as far as Mineola. On her return Mrs. Cortelyou said that her usband was looking forward to the trip on the Sylph to-morrow morning, thinking that the sail to Jersey City would put him in good shape again. It was evident that Mr. Cortelyou was suffering from effects of the accident, which he was gallantly fighting off.

WISCONSIN TURNS DOWN BRYAN Vilas Led Opposition and Kansas City Platform Was Not Indorsed.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Sept. 4. - In the closing hours of the Democratic State Convention this afternoon an effort to have the delegates indorse the national platform of the party ended in failure. Just before the adjournment W. H. Rogers of Madison offered a resolution calling for an indorsement of the principles of the Kansas City Convention

There was great applause among the silver members of the party, but instantly a storm broke out among those opposed to Bryan. Senator Vilas, for the first time in a convention since 1896 when he bolted, led the opposition and counseled that no such action be taken.

There was great confusion, and in the middle of it all the convention broke up and adjourned.

There was another sensation during the day. John Wattawa, who was nominated after midnight last night for Lieutenant, Governor, was asked to withdraw from the ticket, which he declined to do. It seems that after the convention last night t became known that he was in trouble with the pension department and there were those members of the party who demanded

> CHICAGO GREAT WESTERN. J. Ogden Armour Denies Purchase Report -The Annual Meeting.

CHICAGO, Sept. 4. The annual meeting of the Chicago Great Western Railroad Company was held here to-day. President Stickney held proxies for a large majority of the stock. The proceedings were formal. The three directors whose terms expired by limitation-Ansel Oppenheim, T. H. Wheeler and H. E. Fletcher-were unanimously reëlected. The directors reëlected all the officers of the company.

"No negotiations are pending for a sale of the Great Western to any other railroad or combination of capitalists," said President Stickney. "A majority of Great Western stock cannot be purchased in the western stock cannot be purchased in the open market, as the controlling interest is in the hands of a few men. Our new line into Omaha will be laid this fall, but ballasting may not be completed. The work of construction has been hindered by the phenomenal rainfall this season."

A DAY AND NIGHT OF REVEL IN SARATOGA.

The Queen of the Flowers and the King of the Carnival|Crowned-Floral Parade In the Afternoon and Parade of Proteus ient of the Council, by 4,182 majority out in the Evening-The Carnival Ball.

SABATOGA, Sept. 4.- In the calendar f the Saratoga Floral Fête and Carnival this has been ascension day. The Queen of the Flowers and the King of the Carnival came to their own with the dawn, and over all the wide realm of blossom and of pleasure they have held joint and undisputed sway since the day was born. The reign, if brief, has been brilliant. It began at sunise; it will end at midnight.

While only the immediate members of he court witnessed the coronation, 100,000 persons saw the ascension and have been paying homage to their King and Queen all day. According to a strange tradition of the Court of Flowers the Queen of a festival may not be profaned by a public crowning. She may not appear before her subjects until she has been clothed with all her sovereign powers. Accordingly Jessica, daughter of the Royal House of Arms and consert of William Edgar of the house of Woolley, was crowned in the Dell of the Morning Dews at sunrise this

At the same hour, in the throne room of the Court of Pleasure, Elbert I., greatest of the house of Palmer and for a royal person having great skill in the use of drugs and herbs and physic, was duly proclaimed King of the Carnival. There s no tradition against a public coronation for the Carnival King, but out of gallantry to his sovereign lady he declined to be

Although the reign of Flora and of Rex will end at midnight, the revels of the court bid fair to keep up until another dawn

The floral parade, of which Col. William Rowe of Troy was the grand marshal, moved at 3 o'clock this afternoon. It was led by a mounted division, under command of Dr. Frederick J. Resseguie, of nineteen equerries of the court, clad in white, the horses gorgeously caparisoned in red bridles and saddle cloths bound and in red bridles and saddle cloths bound and bordered with flowers. There were forty-one carriages in the parade, the prizes, first, second and third, for beauty of deco-ration, being awarded respectively to the victoria of William B. BURLINGTON, Vt., Sept. 4 .- All the returns or the Vermont State election held on Tuesday are in, and the result is that there s no election of Governor or Lieutenant Governor, by popular vote, and the Legislature which meets in October will have that duty to perform.

The corrected figures give Gen. J. G. McCullough, Republican, 31,788; P. W. Clement, bolting Republican, 28,117; F. W. McGettrick, Democrat, 7,280 and J. O. Sherburne, Prohibition, 2,525.

The Senate will be composed of twenty-ve Republicans and tive Democrats five Republicans and five Democrats, while in 1909 it was composed entirely of Republicans. In the house there are 144 straight Republicans, 41 license men, 47 Democrats and three not indicated. All the license men, some of the Democrats and a few of the straight Republicans will vote for Clement, but Gen. McCullough's fri nds say that he will have a majority of at least 39 on joint ballot.

The Republicans have elected Frederick F. Fleetwood. Secretary of State: John

F. Fleetwood, Secretary of State; John L. Bacon, Treasurer; Horace F. Graham, Auditor, and also reslect Congressmen David J. Foster and Kittredge Haskins. While a large majority of the Senators and Representatives elected are Republicans.

Representatives elected are replanears, it seems to be the general opinion that the new Legislature will pass a high-license-local-option liquor law with referendum attachment, in place of the prohibitory law now in force, with which a large proportion of the voters of the State have shown their dissatisfaction

EMINENT DEMOCRATS TURNING TO EDWARD M. IN THEIR NEED.

The Man Who Couldn't Be Mayor of New York City Considered Now as a Forlorn Hope Candidate for Governor of the State-Better'n Coler, Anyway, It's Sald.

The Hon. David Bennett Hill returned to Wolfert's Roost last evening. He has been down here in the Hoffman House for a couple of days talking with Democrats upon certain matters pertaining to the Democratic Mr. Hill is always cool, comfortable and erene, and he did not turn a hair yesterday when all sorts of questions were fired at him as to the Democratic candidate for Governor, Mr. Coler breakfasted with him, and then in turn Mr. Hill hadtalks with John F. Carroll, Senator Patrick Henry McCarren, James J. Martin and the Almighty

There was a good deal of Coler talk, and Mr. Sullivan seemed to be for Mr. Coler. But, as a matter of fact, the Democratic for the Carnival King, but out of gallantry to his sovereign lady he declined to be crowned amid the acciaim of his subjects. At least that is the statement in to-day's issue of the Court Gazette.

Flora and Rex appeared together this afterneon in all the glory of their sovereignty, and received the keys of their kingdom and the homage of their subjects, many of whom had traversed a continent to real the court of Appeals, to accept the nomination. That is the situation in the Democratic camp at present.

the Democratic camp at present.

Of course Mr. Hill's friends believe that the Hon. W. S. Devery, even if he wins in the Ninth district, should be pitched head and boots out of the Democratic State convention. Mr. Hill's friends have looked over the situation, and they find that the primary law does not extend to State conventions, which have absolute control over their own proceedings. So right or wrong, politically, it was said last night, Devery is to be towed out through the skylights for the reason that in the estimation of certain Democrats he is offensive the Democratic party and should not be lowed to jeopardize the chances of electing Democratic candidate for Governor, o matter how remote there may be. So eminent Democrats said yesterday that Devery may spend his money for beer, sandwiches and skyrockets, and exhaust his oxygen, and he may turn up in Sara-toga in a special train with his cohorts. All the same, in the interests of the Demo-cratic party of the Empire State, he will be cratic party of the Empire State, he will be shot through the roof of the convention, and there will be no soft mattress outside on which he can land.

Somehow, after Mr. Hill departed for Albany last night some of the Democrats who had talked with him began to mention the name of Edward M. Shepard of Brooklyn as the real up-the-sleeve Democratic candidate for Governor. This report would not down, and yet nobody could be candidate for Governor. This report would not down, and yet nobody could be found who would confirm it or deny it. It was in the air, and the Brooklyn statesman did not care to discuss it. All that was said and that was said in whispers puncuated with frequent nods, that Shepard could really present the claims of the Democ-racy in this State, whereas Coler, if he got n the stump, might turn out to be as pec boom for Governor late last night than one would easily credit, and in view of the situation Mr. Shepard's name must now be most prominently mentioned as a Demo-cratic candidate for Governor, provided always Chief Judge Parker will not accept the romination. nomination.

The Democrats have looked up the situation as to stampeding the convention for Judge Parker, and they find that this is a most dangerous proceeding, for the reason that in 1876 the Democrats nominated Horatio Seymour for Governor and he Horatio Seymour for Governor and ne subsequently declined, and Lucius Robin-son was nominated to head the ticket. It was all very well in a Presidential year, representative Democrats say, for Mr. Seymour to take such a stand, but in an off year it would be a mighty peculiar situ-ation if the Democratic State Convention ation if the Democratic State Convention nominated Chief Judge Parker and he de-clined. BOER GENERALS' DIPLOMACY. Circumstances Leading Up to Their Meeting

Special Cable Despatch to TRE SUN. LONDON, Sept. 4.- Experience has proved that it is best to be sceptical of the assertions as to what the Boer Generals now here are seeking to achieve. As a matter of fact, they have been courteously declining the advances of such prominent persons as Victor Cavendish, M. P., a nephew of the Duke of Devonshire, who wished them to spend some days at his country mansion. Other invitations from prominent men for them to join house parties, where they would meet Governmental politicians, also have been declined. It pubishes an article by a writer for whom it vouches and who, it says, began his railway career in England and has since at tained an important place in the United States. The writer practically proclaims the insolvency of the English lines. He selects for a comparison of accounts the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western with the Northeastern Railway of England and similar lines. He declares that if the latter charged to revenue all that the Lackawanna company does, the Northeastern's dividend, which is 6 per cent., would be absolutely wiped out.

The Times editorially handles the writer's figures. It considers that he has proved his case, and that, broadly speaking, the English railways have no reserve. They maintain their property, but do not supplement and do not improve it out of their

The Times's revelations are certain to provoke retaliation. Mr. Gibb, manager of the Northeastern Railway, is regarded as being among the ablest business men in England. He was selected by the Government to serve on the committee to consider reforms of the War Office, and was also recently delegated to visit the United States to compare British and American railroad methods.
